John Pashia is a third generation beekeeper and honey bee enthusiast who has been keeping bees in Saint Louis and Jefferson counties for over 11 years. He is the Vice President of the Eastern Missouri Beekeeping Association and also a member of the Missouri State Beekeeping Association and the Saint Louis Bee Club. John cares for approximately 20 colonies and focuses primarily on honey production. He is also active in beekeeping education for new and experienced beekeepers. A childhood surrounded by honey bees has led to a reconnection with the natural world as an adult.
